

SageWoman

Celebrating the Goddess in Every Woman

WORLDS OF

Faerie

Away with the Fairies · The Gifts of Annwyn
Pursued by Music · Find Your Way to Faeryland
Elves: Fairy Folk of the Northern Lands

ISSUE 91

BBI Media

Magazines that feed your soul.

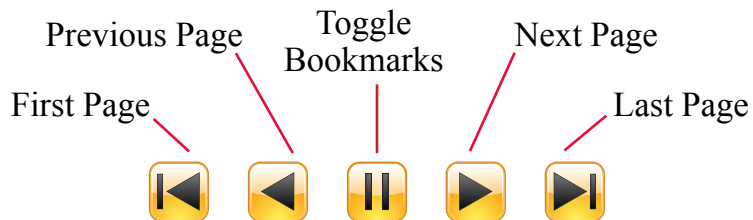

Plus: The Blessed Bee, Crone, Crone Chronicles, newWitch, PanGaia and GreenMan magazines.

Visit our PaganSquare.com blogosphere.

Navigation Controls

Availability depends on the reader application.

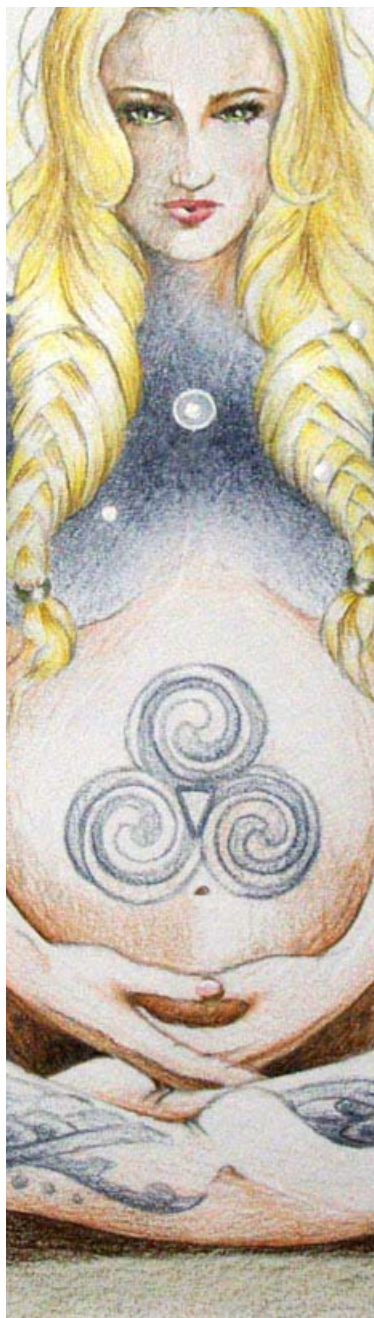

SageWoman

Celebrating the Goddess in Every Woman

Worlds of Faerie

ISSUE 91

MARTHA LINDEN ©2017

FEATURES

6 AWAY WITH THE FAERIES Mary Petiet

My grandmother saw the faeries, and lived to tell the tale. She was riding her horse through the woods near her rural Pennsylvania home when she saw a flash of light, low near the ground.

10 WHY BELIEVE IN FAERIES? Merideth Allyn

Why the faeries? Why do I spend so much time researching and teaching others about them? Both then and now, the faeries have always been very real to me. PLUS A Journey to Fairyland.

15 PURSUED BY MUSIC Suzanne d'Corsey

Dusk was descending on an afternoon in late February on the small island of Iona, off Scotland's west coast. A storm was building over the wild Atlantic, the setting sun shooting rays of gold through the rolling and crashing turquoise of the ocean, the wild grey of the clouds flashing across the sheen of the white sands.

19 THE GIFTS OF ANNWYN Síthearan NicLeòid

My path into the heart of my spiritual ancestry began early when I spent time with my Scottish grandmother from Aberdeen and my great-grandfather from Dundee (who my mother described as a "flower child.")

24 A MATCH MADE IN FAERY Jennifer Langsdale

Lately, with all of my mid-thirties junk happening in my life — landlord disputes, parenthood, small business management, and lack of sleep — my fairy pool, so to say, is running a bit dry. But although it doesn't seem very magical, they are as helpful to me now as ever.

27 BUTTERFLY WINGS Winterswan

The fairie garden is just a few steps from our kitchen door. Many mornings I sit on the garage step, sipping my first mug of coffee. Crows with iridescent wings call their shrill hellos; slender, long billed ibis pluck at insects in our back yard; and butterflies dance among the leaves and flowers of the bougainvillea that cover the wooden fence.

Fly Me to the Moon
by Josephine Wall, 2007
(Acrylic on Canvas, 30 x 40)
Original art and prints for sale,
www.josephinewallgallery.com

"Fly me to the Moon and let me play among the stars..."

Transported by her winged companion, the moth maiden is drawn towards the ethereal light of the moon. Her flowing robes of rainbow colored moth wings fly out behind her as she is struck by the awesome beauty of the lunar landscape. One tiny speck in the wonder that is our universe, yet so powerful an influence on our precious planet.

POETRY

29 Circle Dancing
Vesna Dye

30 I Saw Tinker Bell
Marianne Lyon

30 The Seelie Court
Lorraine Schein

65 Body & Soul: Featured Poet
Shellie Jankowski-Smith

INTERVIEW

31 Mandy Mitchell: Making Every Day Magical interview by Amanda Lonsdorf

COLUMNS

3 Living the Dream

Anne Newkirk Niven

34 One of Ten Thousand:

Elves, Fairy Folk of the Northern Lands

Diana L. Paxson

43 Herbal Adventures: Faerie Medicine

Susun Weed

45 Forever Maiden: Art in Times of Strife

Alison Leigh Lilly

47 Mama Bear: On Faeries

Janet Callahan

49 Queen of Myself: Dream Sequence

Donna Henes

51 Crone Songs: The Earth of Our Bones

Lizann Bassham

53 Weave of Our Lives: Dreaming between the Worlds

Anne Hill

57 Turning the Wheel: Light Out of Darkness

Danielle Blackwood

59 Colors of the Goddess: Power & Safety in Seclusion

Crystal Blanton

61 Child of Artemis: Be a Unicorn

Leslie J. Linder

63 Living on Earth: Faeries Don't Use Smart Phones

Rebecca Bailey

DEPARTMENTS

69 Sage Reviews

79 The Rattle: short pieces by Brittany Lewis, Chani Zwibel, Lisa McIntyre, Barbara Greenman, and Kelsie Colclough.

87 Women at the Well

88 A Pinch of Sage Jennifer Pratt-Walter